Suzana Da Camara To Perform at Roy Thomson Hall in Support of Haiti Relief

February 3, 2010 (Toronto, Ontario) - Suzana Da Camara will be performing for Eat, Drink and Give, a Doctors Without Borders fundraising effort to support their emergency relief work in Haiti. The event will take place on Tuesday February 9, 2010 at 6:30 p.m. at Roy Thomson Hall in Toronto.

"I'm really excited and honoured to perform for such a good cause. Our hearts go out to the people of Haiti who have suffered from the disastrous earthquake and hopefully our efforts will provide some relief for them." said Da Camara.

Da Camara's performance at Eat, Drink and Give will feature songs in English, Portuguese and French from her newly released fourth studio album entitled "Proof of Love".

Her new album produces a fresh, yet vintage-inspired sound that is both familiar yet startlingly different. "Proof of Love" engages a children's choir, violins and trumpets to make their unique sound come alive. Da Camara's multilingual style of music is pop with influences of cabaret, jazz and latin. The album was supported by the Ontario Arts Council.

Eat, Drink and Give is a fundraiser for Haiti relief on behalf of Doctors Without Borders. A group of local food and wine lovers came together with the idea of helping the citizens of Haiti by teaming up with local restaurants, Ontario and international wineries, and local talent. Roy Thomson Hall generously donated the space; wineries, wine agents and restaurants are donating wine and food; and musicians and artists are donating their talents. All proceeds go to Doctors Without Borders for their emergency relief work in helping Haitians recover from the aftermath of the devastating earthquake.
